

YMCA360 FAQs for YMCA Members

Q: What is YMCA360?

A: YMCA360 is the people, places, and programs of the YMCA brought digitally to life. Members of partner Ys have full access to the more than 1,000 high quality on-demand instructional videos and live streaming programs that allow members to enjoy the breadth and depth of YMCA programs no matter where they happen to be!

Q: How do I access YMCA360?

A: YMCA360 can be accessed through any internet browser on a computer or mobile device by visiting www.ymca360.org and entering your zip code, selecting your branch of the YMCA, and providing the email address that is currently in the YMCA membership database.

Also on AppleTV & Roku: YMCA360 is also currently available on AppleTV and on Roku. Just search for YMCA360 in either the AppleTV store or using Roku search to download the appropriate app, and then start participating in your favorite Y programs!

Signing in on either television app is the same as signing on via the web.

Q: What do I do if YMCA360 is unable to authenticate me as a member and won't let me in?

A: Provided you have selected your home YMCA and not a branch from another YMCA association, chances are that the YMCA does not have the email address currently on file that you are attempting to use for signing into YMCA360. Please contact your home YMCA and update your email address. After that, you should be all set.

Q: The app is asking me for a six-digit code. What is that?

A: The first time that you log-in on a new device, YMCA360 is going to authenticate your access to the email address that you used to sign-in by sending an email with a six-digit code to that email address. Please check your email to find the code that you can enter into YMCA360 to gain first-time access to the platform.

Q: Will I have to enter that six-digit code every time I log on?

A: No, you will only be asked for that code if you log on using a different device or following periodic app updates.

Q: What are the six round buttons just above the video carousels on the home screen?
